New Castle high school seniors have started wearing the "dinks" that mark them as members of this year's graduating class. The "dinks" are green and white, and as there are nearly 550 members in the class, they are quite numerous around the city.

More states appear to be adopting the idea of advertising their state on the auto license plates. Noted one on the street last night, reading, Arkansas, "Opportunity Land."

Despite the rains of the past few weeks, preparations are being made by residents of some unpaved streets in the city area to have oil or other preparation placed on them to keep the dust down during the coming hot summer months.

State highway employees are making preparation for the hot, dry days that are ahead for county motorists. The men are engaging in removing calcium chloride from a car on a railroad siding. The material will be spread on the secondary roads of the county highways to prevent the forming of dust clouds when cars move over the lesser traveled roads.

Students in the county schools are resuming their senior graduation trips that take the happy boys and girls to many parts of the country. Washington, New York and Detroit seem to be popular (Continued on Page Two)

Diplomatic Officials Seek Ray Of Hope In U. S.-Russia Cold War

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, May 11.—(INS)—Diplomatic officials expressed belief today that an early conference designed to end the "cold war" between the United States and Russia is a virtual certainty.
Premature Soviet disclosures of a new exchange of views between the Kremlin and the state department was seen as strong indication of the inevitability of such a parity.

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
WASHINGTON, May 11.—Diplomatic officials wishfully sought a ray of hope today that the "cold war" between the United States and the Soviet Union might be settled peacefully as a result of a new exchange of views between the Kremlin and the state department.
The exchange was initiated by Ambassador to Moscow Walter Bedell Smith one week ago. At that time he called on Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and, in substance told him that the United States still holds the door open for discussions which may solve the present world situation.

Smith's statement, delivered just before he left on leave for western Europe, was published along with the Kremlin's reply in a surprise radio broadcast from Moscow last night.
The state department is still studying the Russian note and is withholding comment until this study has been completed and discussed.

However, it is generally known that officials regard the Russian reply as hardly changing the present world stalemate.

Korea's Capital Is Quiet Today After Election Outbreaks

SEOUL, May 11.—(INS)—Korea's capital was quiet today following a series of shootings, bombings and ballot thefts that marked the nation's first election.
The toll of casualties throughout Korea mounted steadily beyond the last available estimate of at least 73 killed and scores wounded in three days of pre-election day violence.
Some 7,250,000 voters, defying leftist terrorism, were reported to have participated in yesterday's election throughout American-occupied south Korea.
Occupation authorities reported that the turnout amounted to 92 per cent of the 7,880,000 Koreans who had registered. The heavy voting was achieved despite allegedly communist-instigated onslaughts on polling places, police stations and groups of voters.

Federal Actions Halt Threatened Railroad Strike

Government Seizure Of Railroads And Court Injunction Halt Rail Tieup

OPERATIONS NOW UNDER ARMY ORDERS

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The nation's 200,000-mile rail network operated today under army orders backed up by a federal court injunction that forced cancellation of a paralyzing strike of engineers, firemen and switchmen.

The scheduled walkout of 150,000 members of the three operating brotherhoods was called off less than eight hours before today's 6 a. m. strike deadline in compliance with a decree of U. S. District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough.

Army Secretary Royal, boss of the carriers under government seizure, requested the justice department to obtain the court order after the seizure action alone failed to halt what President Truman said would be "a nation-wide tragedy, with world-wide repercussions."

Cancel Strike Plans
Under the threat of jail sentences and heavy fines for any disobedience of Judge Goldsborough—who fined John L. Lewis and the miners' union $1,400,000 last month—leaders of the three rail unions quickly cancelled strike plans.
Identical telegrams were dispatched to local union headquarters throughout the country stating:

"Your wage committee has taken action directing that the court order be complied with. Accordingly, you are hereby notified that the call for strike as of 6 a. m. May 11, 1948, is hereby cancelled and that all employees under your jurisdiction should continue to report for duty as heretofore."

Revoke Embargoes
The messages were signed by Alvanley Johnston, grand chief of the engineers; David B. Robertson, president of the firemen, and A. J. Glover, head of the switchmen.

Operations On Railroads Are About Normal

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The nation's railroads, under government seizure and army control, operated normally today with all restrictions imposed because of the strike threat removed after a federal court injunction blocked the walkout.
Army Secretary Royal reported that there was "no substantial interruption in normal operations" on the 200,000-mile network of roads freed from strike-caused paralysis through the government's last-minute intervention.
Royal announced that seven railroad presidents had been called to active duty as colonels, to supervise government operation of the roads.

Jewish Forces Seek To Control Tel-Aviv Road

JERUSALEM, May 11.—(INS)—Jewish military forces strove today to mop up Arab pockets of resistance along the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem highway.
Jewish troops hit at Arab hillside strongpoints in an effort to remove all danger to convoys they are preparing to send out during the day.

Main Trouble Spot
The main trouble spot appeared to be a stretch little more than a mile long near Deir Ayoub, Biblical birthplace of Job. Skirmishes were reported still in progress in that area.
The British army announced meanwhile that a Jewish airplane was shot down in yesterday's offensive in which most of the Arab forces were routed from the highway.

A second plane is believed to have made a crash landing after after the pilot was hit by Arab gunfire.

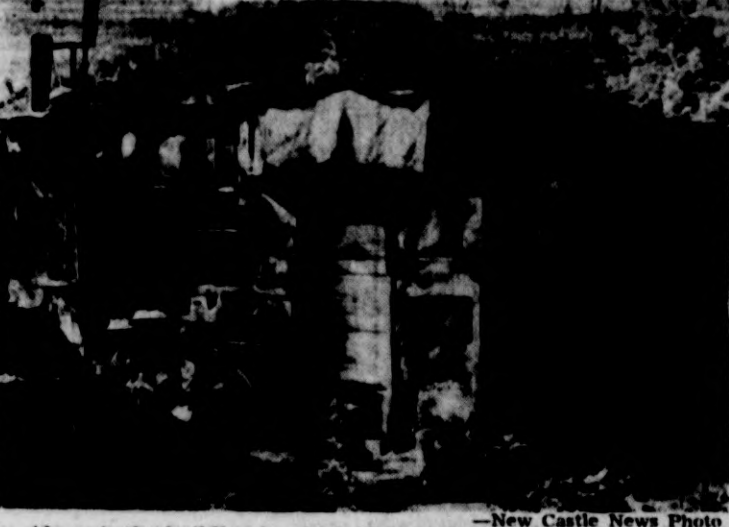

Cling To Ridges
Some 1,500 men of Haganah's Palmach striking force clung to two commanding ridges along the so-called "ambush alley" 15 miles west of Jerusalem.
Ambush alley is in the Bab El Wad gorge where Arabs previously enjoyed great success in halting convoys en route from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. Haganah gained control of the road in a fierce drive in which Arab defenders in the area were routed.

It is believed that if the Jews succeeded in maintaining control of the highway they will be in a position to dictate terms of any permanent truce for Jerusalem.

Chrysler Strike Deadline Is Set

DETROIT, May 11.—(INS)—Norman Matthews, director of the UAW-CIO's Chrysler department, today announced the deadline for the nationwide strike against the Chrysler corporation had been set at 10 a. m. tomorrow.
Matthews said the union was prepared to negotiate up to the very moment of the strike but the 10 a. m. deadline will stand unless a settlement is reached before that time.

Still Seeking To Elect President To Serve Italy

ROME, May 11.—(INS)—The Italian parliament failed today in a third round of balloting to elect a new president of the republic.
Luigi Einaudi, a Liberal, received 462 votes but fell short of a required two-thirds majority when Communists and Leftwing Socialists cast 333 blank ballots.
A fourth ballot, requiring only a simple majority, will be taken this afternoon.

In the latest voting provisional President Enrico De Nicola received 13 and Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza, leading candidate yesterday, nine.

Main support of the dominant Christian Democratic party was switched to Einaudi, who is finance minister, after Sforza withdrew as the party's principal candidate.

No New Policy Move Declares President Today

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, May 11.—(INS)—President Truman declared today that the approach made by Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov "represented no new department in American policy."

The chief executive said in a special statement that the United States had initiated discussions with Russia with a view to clarifying objectives of the European recovery program and the recent policy decision to strengthen U. S. military forces.

Dominic Floe, Jr. Dies As Result Of Bullet Wounds

Fatally Wounded By 'Booby Trap' Arranged In Building On Savannah Road

WILLIAM LATHROP HELD BY POLICE

After being grilled at some length by state police, County Detective Charles D. Ross, Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna, Sheriff Frank L. Coen, and Coroner Charles E. Allen, William Lathrop, aged 68 years, of the Savannah road, confessed that he had rigged up a "booby trap," with a double-barreled 12-gauge shot gun, which fatally wounded Dominic Floe, Jr., aged 15 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Floe, of 1609 Huron avenue, some time Monday morning.

Attention of the authorities was called to the shooting by Lathrop, who called state police at 3:45 p. m. Monday and informed them that he had discovered the body of the boy on his property when he returned from the city.

Start Investigation
The state police in turn notified the coroner, and on investigation it was found that young Floe had been wounded in the right thigh by a shotgun blast. No weapon was found at the scene and the shooting remained a mystery for some time. The identity of the dead youth was not established until last evening, when members of the family, learning that a boy's body had been found in an abandoned sand bank, on the Savannah road, and alarmed because of Dominic's disappearance since early in the morning, went to the Reynolds Funeral Home, where the body had been taken, and identified it.

An autopsy, which was performed at the Jameson Memorial hospital late Monday evening, revealed that the wound which the youth had sustained, had penetrated the right hip and the shot had severed the femoral artery, which runs down the inside of the thigh.

Admits Trap Set
Lathrop, who had been taken into custody and lodged in the city police station, was then quizzed, and he finally admitted that he had set the trap to catch marauders who broke into his shack, which Lathrop had erected at the old sand bank.

Lathrop told the authorities that he had left home about 8 o'clock Monday morning, to go about his business of collecting junk, and after obtaining a load, had sold it to a local junk dealer, and had then spent the afternoon in collecting rubbish, which he hauled to the sand bank and dumped.

He "knew what had happened," he stated, when he arrived at the scene and discovered young Floe's body. Determining that the youth was dead, he called the authorities. He stated that he had hidden the shotgun in a pile of wood, and had covered the hole made in the door with cardboard. This fact was later discovered by Sheriff Coen and County Detective Ross, and led to the ultimate confession by Lathrop.

Boy Crawled On Ground
The youth had evidently tried to make his way to the highway, some distance from the spot where he was wounded, and in the final (Continued on Page Seven)

Graduates Given Fine Opportunity In U. S. Navy

High school graduates would do well to consider the advantages of a U. S. Navy career, Chief Machinist's Mate S. E. Bond of the local recruiting office pointed out today.

Unless the graduate definitely has his future course charted, the navy has a special offer, a choice of technical training, if they can qualify, in 400 specialties.

Not only is this technical field open, but the career at the same time offers travel and adventure, as well as good pay and privileges.

It is interesting to note, Chief Bond reminded youths, that one in the navy will one find a position that will take him to visit Shanghai, Naples, Honolulu, Havana, Algiers, London and many other points, give you the opportunity to get college credits, feed and clothe you, give you free medical and dental care—plus 30-days vacation a year.

And one of the best selling points on a navy career is that you can retire with a lifelong income when still a young man.

To get the details, visit the navy recruiting station, Post Office building, Chief Bond and his assistants will be most happy to give you the information desired, since they are all "career" men themselves.

to open discussions in an attempt to iron out Soviet-American differences.

In his reply Molotov said: "The Soviet government has acquainted itself with the statement of the United States ambassador dated May 4 concerning the present state of Soviet-American relations. 'The Soviet government adopts a positive attitude toward the wishes of the United States government as expressed with the proposal to begin, in this connection, a discussion and settlement of differences existing between us.'"

America Expresses Concern

The American note, declaring that the "concern and resolution" of the American people has increased in connection with the hostile attitude displayed by the Soviet government, explained that the U. S. role in Europe represents an effort toward rehabilitation and contains threats to no one.

It said, according to the Moscow transmitter, that:

"The government of the United States wishes clearly to assert that the United States entertains no hostile or aggressive intentions in relations with the Soviet Union. 'The policy of the United States is so worked out that it cannot in any way have an unfavorable influence on the interests of the Soviet Union, if the Soviet Union strives to live in peace with other neighbors and refrains from attempts to render direct or indirect influence on the affairs of others.'"

"Inside U.S.A." Reviewed For Woman's Club; Installation Tea

Woman's club brought its year to a close with a program and installation of officers Monday afternoon in Highland U. P. church auditorium.

Dr. Eugene C. Beach, pastor of the First Christian church of Youngstown, as speaker, reviewed the book, "Inside U. S. A." by John Gunther, a book exceedingly difficult to review because of its encyclopedic nature.

In addition to giving the large audience an insight into the choice of material in the book and the way in which it was compiled, together with an understanding of the author's underlying message, Dr. Beach punctuated his presentation with pertinent and humorous asides that delighted the audience. The book he sees as a reporter's attempt to chart the political and sociological trends of our times, and its message is the author's belief in social planning. This is the time when our country needs to be intelligent. We cannot afford not to be informed, not with the responsibility of this great nation, is a recurring point brought out by Dr. Beach. We have a great heritage in the United States and it is time we got enthusiastic about it. There is no reason why, in this country, we cannot have both freedom and security, with the greatness of opportunity here and our priceless heritage.

Dr. Beach was introduced by Mrs. Thomas G. Shreffler, program chairman, who to open the program presented Dr. D. L. Ferguson and Sam Lewis, who sang a group of vocal duet numbers.

Mrs. J. Edward Everett, retiring president, who presided during the earlier part of the meeting, gave a brief speech expressing her appreciation for the co-operation she has received and of thanks for the opportunity to serve the club.

New officers were then installed by Mrs. Alvah M. Shumaker, who handed the gavel to the new president, Mrs. C. R. Brenner. Other officers installed were: first vice president, Mrs. J. E. Everett; second vice president, Mrs. E. F. Henderson; recording secretary, Mrs. Earl C. Ruby; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ellis G. Diefenderfer; treasurer, Mrs. Earle M. Cass; historian, Mrs. Walter A. Trimble; parliamentarian, Mrs. William C. Sel.

After a brief speech of acceptance by Mrs. Brenner, she received an orchid corsage from Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Everett in turn was presented with her past president's pin by Mrs. Brenner.

Mrs. Brenner reported on the 51st Federation of Women's clubs

convention in Harrisburg.

Earlier the club voted the purchase of bonds to the amount of $150 for the clubhouse project, $50 to the Y. W. C. A. membership fund, $25 to the Neighborhood House, $35 tuition and camp fees for the National World Federalist camp and $50 for camp clothing for the girls at Margaret Henry Home.

It was announced that Mrs. A. B. Street has been made a life member of the club. Mrs. S. G. Ligo and Mrs. Thomas Francis were appointed auditors.

Announcements were made of the conservation-garden department luncheon on May 19 in the First U. P. church and of the United World Federalist institute at senior high school.

Following the program and business, tea was served in the Sunday school room.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Andrew M. Dodds, Mrs. E. N. Beisheim, Mrs. L. G. Wygant and Mrs. F. B. Walrath.

SPRING TEA GIVEN

BY READING CIRCLE

The Reading Circle brought its year to a close with a Spring Tea Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Leroy Clark, 203 Garfield avenue.

On the program, in charge of Mrs. Waynes Stutzinger, members were entertained by the presentation of a one-act play, "The Valiant" given by a group of high school pupils under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff.

Miss Dolores Widener read the introduction to the playlet and in the cast were: as Warden Holt, Vincent Yakowitz; Fr. Daly, James Welker; James Dyke, Clem Mack; Josephine Paris, Nancy Sue Wall; Dan Wilson, Jack McCoy.

The playlet was well presented and received warm applause. During business, annual reports were given and the group also heard a report of the recent Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs luncheon meeting.

Program booklets for the coming year were distributed and revealed that in the fall the club's 1948-49 season will open with a meeting at the Shenango Pottery on October 11.

Special guests present were Mrs. Paul Laderer, of Portersville, Mrs. Carl Bird, of Volant, and Mrs. C. W. Irwin.

Tea was served at the close of the afternoon from a beautifully appointed table with the social committee, Mrs. Harry Marshall, Mrs. Bernard Hook, and Mrs. David Tomkins, in charge.

A large birthday cake graced the table. Pictures were taken of the event. The honored guest received many lovely gifts.

At a quiet ceremony performed Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Second U. P. church, Mrs. Margaret Ethel Johnston, of R. D. 2, Miller avenue, and William G. Sands, of R. D. 2, Miller avenue, were united in marriage with Rev. J. Calvin Rose officiating.

READING CIRCLE '91

LUNCHEON MONDAY

Reading Circle '91 closed its season with a luncheon in the green room of the Y. W. C. A. Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Covers were laid for 15 at a table centered with an arrangement of purple irises and white bowl flanked by tall white candles.

Distribution of program booklets for the year ahead was a feature of the afternoon. A brief business meeting with Mrs. Thomas Lindsey presiding followed luncheon and members answered roll call by naming "My Favorite Dish". Games and chat were versions during the remainder of the afternoon.

Committee in charge of arrangements for the luncheon was Mrs. E. L. Davenport, Mrs. Roy M. Jamison, Mrs. Frank Hanna, and Miss Irene V. Dart.

In October the club will resume meetings with a luncheon and installation of officers.

Miss Doris Beatty served as mistress of ceremonies. Group singing was enjoyed. A program, in which each girl participated, was presented.

Stander-McConnell

At a quiet wedding solemnized in the home of the groom's parents here, Miss Gertrude Stander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stander, of Ledgewood, N. J., became the bride of Howard Kenneth McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. McConnell, of 7 Craig street, on May 8. Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride, who wore a gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias and red roses, was attended by Miss Audrey McConnell, sister of the groom, who wore an aqua suit with black accessories.

Roy Smith served the groom as best man.

Afterward there was a reception for 40 guests in the home. Mr. and Mrs. McConnell left on a wedding trip to Ledgewood, N. J., and upon their return will make their home with the groom's parents for the time being. Mrs. McConnell has been a telephone operator in Ledgewood and Mr. McConnell is in the Merchant Marine.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

One of the most commanding figures of royalty in modern times is stepping down from power.

But the world of democratic ideals, honesty and moral rectitude never will forget her.

She is, of course, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, whose failing health has kept her in virtual retirement for many months and who now is reported to have decided on the wisdom of placing all royal power in the hands of her capable daughter, Princess Juliana.

Few indeed are the women of history who have filled a throne so amply—literally as well as figuratively—as stout, plainspoken Wilhelmina.

She consolidated and expanded the modern Dutch empire.

She steadfastly maintained Netherlands neutrality in the first world war.

Fought Nazis

She fought Nazism in her own country with relentless zeal and escaped almost by miracle from German parachutists dispatched by Adolf Hitler to kidnap her from the royal palace at The Hague when his armies invaded Holland.

She fled the Dutch government-in-exile in London.

And in a historic Pearl Harbor anniversary speech, she laid the groundwork for the new United States of Indonesia which brings great autonomy and promises increased prosperity to Holland's colonies.

Puritanical, stern, uncompromising yet deeply kind and protective, Wilhelmina has been loved by her people as few monarchs of continental Europe have been adored.

Represented Solid Goodness

She always has represented the solid goodness of the Dutch people. It is no secret that they still revere the fact that they allowed the unspeakable Anton Mussert to reach eminence as leader of the Dutch Nazi party and Hitler's personal "gauleiter" in the Netherlands.

They showed their repentance in an eminently practical way.

Mussert was the first of the Nazi war criminals to be arrested, tried and executed. Vidkun Quisling of Norway and Pierre Laval of France had been disposed of a few months before.

Wilhelmina has been on the Dutch throne since 1890, when she succeeded at the age of 10. Her mother served as regent until she reached 18, but from that time on the queen has been sole ruler, just short of autocratic.

She is said to have been unhappy when Juliana married Prince Bernhard of Lippe-Biesterfeld because he encouraged her to slim down a bit and take to lipstick, yachts and fast automobiles. It is somehow characteristic of the 67-year-old queen's personality that these frivolities again disappeared from the Dutch court life not long after the honeymoon was over.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

It matters not that the Chancery Court of Norfolk, Virginia, found the form of the bequest faulty.

It matters not that the lady of his choice, now being a happily married thirty-year-old housewife, is too busy with her chores to think of bygone romance.

Nor does it matter, for this story, that Valentine Brown Lawless, soldier and lover, was killed in a plane crash in Austria in October, 1944.

What matters is that even in this twentieth century of materialism there may still exist a spark of romance that might well have inspired a Shakespeare or a Tennyson.

Valentine Brown Lawless was in love with a comely Virginia lass. He loved her secretly. He never had the courage to tell her.

But he carried the love in his heart and when he went to war he made a will disposing of a $3,600 estate.

He left part of that estate to his brother.

And then he wrote his brother a letter telling him of his great love for that girl in Norfolk.

If anything happened to him, he instructed his brother, a florist was to send "one perfect rose" to his beloved every Saturday before 10 a. m. She was never to be told who sent the flowers. She was only to have the pleasure of receiving them.

The heirs did not think there was much sense to the young lover's request.

They took the case into the court, and as I said in the beginning, the court found a flaw and set the bequest aside, particularly since the subject of this secret love said that she didn't want the roses.

But that is neither here nor there.

Courts and romance do not mix—and when they try to there is usually trouble.

I wish I could have reported this story differently.

I wish I could have told you how each perfect rose was delivered every single Saturday before 10 a. m. and how the girl waited for that rose each week, always hoping that some day the lover himself would ride up to her gate, deliver the rose in person, lift her on his horse and carry her off to his beautiful mansion on Park Avenue, thereafter to dwell for the rest of her life in luxury and love.

Things don't happen that way in the human breast.

Wherever I go in my travels, in all the mail I receive from everywhere, I see that wistful longing for romance.

And don't let me be ashamed of that longing.

Be romantic! Be a dreamer! Let them call you a sissy if you are a man, or a sap if you are a woman.

Life is prosaic, factual and mean. Thank God for those dreams of ours. Thank God for that "one perfect rose!"

Hints On Etiquette

It is not necessary for a man to walk on the curb side when walking with a lady; he may walk on her left. When walking with two ladies, he may walk between them so both may talk with him, and hear what he says.

The Hoover dam, in Arizona and Nevada, is the highest and largest dam in the world.

She sat on the edge of the chair looked across my desk and complained that her husband was useless around the house. . . . She said he was lackadaisical about his children and unappreciative of what she does for them. When screens have to be put up or the garage cleaned, he has her hire the work done. . . . To stress her predicament, she ran over a list of her friends and what they expect and get from their husbands in sympathy and general handiness around the house.

The husband, who was present, sitting on the other side of the office, wasn't defending himself. It evidently was a regular rehearsal of this theme. . . . This woman is a good wife and mother. But she confessed that at times she envies the attention and help her less efficient and more demanding friends get from their husbands.

This wasn't a man . . . but the fact remains . . . the husband knows that the more a man does around the house, the more is expected of him. . . . Once he gets the children up on Sunday morning, he is stuck with that job for life, or until he can hire someone other than his wife to do it.

Just before they left we offered this question to the young lady. . . . Why did you marry this man? . . . The answer was very interesting and they both left smiling as she said "That's an entirely different question."

Shadow Of The Hawk

Washington Comment

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Backers of the dark horse GOP presidential aspirations of Speaker Joseph Martin (R, Massachusetts), are now worried that they cannot count on the 35-member Massachusetts delegation, originally figured to vote for Martin as a "favorite son" on the first ballot.

This would set the speaker up for the vice presidential nomination if sentiment turned strong enough in the GOP convention.

However, Senator Leverett Saltonstall (R, Massachusetts), is challenging the "favorite son" vote and his supporters are predicting he will get the delegation.

Meanwhile, the big California delegation is set to place the name of Gov. Earl Warren in nomination, and hold with him until released. Warren, unopposed in California, is like Martin, a potential dark horse.

His backers figure that if nominated, Warren can carry every state west of the Mississippi, except four.

Air Power—Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R, Michigan), GOP foreign policy chief, as a presidential candidate, is playing a "hands-off" policy on the controversy over the size of the Air Force. Here are three reasons:

1—If there were no other reason, the senator's blood relationship with Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, new chief of the Air Force, might prove embarrassing. The young general is a nephew of the Senate president.

2—Armed forces legislation is outside the official jurisdiction of Vandenberg, who heads the Senate foreign relations committee. His policy has been to stay in his own field.

3—The fight over a 70-versus-66 political "hot potato" as a presidential possibility, there is no point in Vandenberg getting at odds with GOP colleagues in advance of the Republican convention or campaign.

Meanwhile, the man who bought most of the 40 billion dollars' worth of warplanes for the United States in World War II is secretly working out a plan under which the American aircraft industry can reach maximum production in minimum time in case of an emergency.

The man is Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Echols, who as commanding general of the Army Air Force Materiel Command, had biggest say on purchases in the last war. Since retired, he now heads the National Trade Association of Plane Builders.

Echols is completing his plan in concert with men like Donald Douglas, Glenn Martin, Larry Bell, Dutch Kindeberger of North American and William Allen of Boeing.

Members of Congress who want to see America's air power increased say they are fighting the same old battle that downed the late, famed Gen. William (Billy) Mitchell.

Billy Mitchell, after World War I, campaigned relentlessly for air power. He fought the higher Army "brass" on the issue, but his vision went unheeded. In 1926, Mitchell was court-martialed and dismissed from the service for asking only a drop in the bucket compared to what the Air Force now has.

Air-minded lawmakers feel confident that this time the Billy Mitchell fight will end differently. The country, they say, wants supreme air power if defense leaders do not.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE RULE OF COMPETITION

A friend of mine recently was given the opportunity of riding on a railroad train provided by General Motors and known as the "Train of Tomorrow." Many features, some major and some minor, contributed to the pleasure and comfort of the passengers. The motive power was remarkable, the service exceptional. The train represented at least the present maximum comfort in travel by rail.

Back of the fine achievement in producing all this comfort and luxury in transportation, not only to my friend, but to many thoughtful fellow passengers was a natural curiosity about the inspiration for such an ambitious display of modern genius. The answer to this curiosity, of course, spells the whole story of American industrial, commercial and economic development—Competition.

Need Genuine Free Enterprise

Competition cannot exist under anything but a government of genuine free enterprise. The inventor must be protected in his invention; the investor must be protected in his investment; the public must be protected in its patronage—not by statutes, but by rules of competition.

There is one standard in America—exemplified in this exhibition of railway transportation—which has made America an industry rich. It is a simple but vital formula—to give the most of the best for the least.

That is the inspiration of American industry and business, whether it be in making automobiles or soap, refrigerators or radios, tuxedos or slacks—to give the consumer the most of the best for the least. The rule runs from candy bars to clothing. It runs from hamburgers to houses. The American public, by means of advertising, has been educated to demand the most and the best for the least.

Essence of System

That is the essence of the competitive system which has made this country. That is the reason that automotive engineers and draftsmen are working night and day to produce more and better cars for less money. That is the reason that producers, from soap to satins, are striving for superior products at saving prices. That is the reason why millions of American women look over the advertisements in their daily papers and their magazines to find the best and the most they can get for the least.

Does anyone for a minute think that so-called industry, so-called business, would inspire any such free competition as we know in America—the competition which has brought to the millions the benefits of research and ingenuity in almost every line of production?

Restraint Is Just Impossible

By PAUL GALICCO

It would probably be best for a New Jerseyite and a dam-yankee to keep his nose out of the politics of the sister state of Florida, but a copy of a newspaper from the Lake Region of that garden patch and citrus center, sent to me for other purposes, makes this a restraint almost impossible to endure.

For leaping through the pages, I have come upon a political advertisement, a reproduction of a handsome-looking fellow, coupled with the intriguing legend—"STOP SHIPPING GREEN CITRUS," says FULLER WARREN, All-Florida Candidate for Governor.

Calls For Three Cheers

To which one can only say "Amen," and call for three cheers and a couple of tigers for Brother Warren. I don't know him, but he's my boy. I gather he is running for Governor of Florida, but I want to vote for him too. As far as I can make out from the advertisement he is running on a platform of putting an end to the shipment north of green oranges from his native state. This, my friends, is a great and far-seeing statesman. He may be destined for ever bigger things. A fellow who concerns himself with the annual colic I suffer from devouring unripe, hand-painted sourballs shipped up from the citrus belt, masquerading as oranges and grapefruit, might very well be entrusted to look after my foreign policy, and tell the Russians where to get off.

Naturally Not That Naive

Naturally I am not so naive as to believe that Candidate Warren's first concern is with the state citrus industry. Apparently the complaints from the shipping north of unripe fruit has kicked back to the detriment of the huge and important Florida citrus industry. For he says in his campaign pledge, "Once we are assured that we are shipping only good quality fruit that will receive good consumer acceptance there are many other things that can be done to correct the present condition; improvement in distribution to avoid glutting, centralized marketing to avoid price-cutting, placing canners under the Federal market agreement to avoid competition between fresh and canned food, and many others."

Put Own House In Order

However, here is a fellow who obviously believes in putting his own house in order first, as refreshing a note in politics as I have encountered in many a year. I do not know what else Candidate Warren stands for, but I'll take that as a beginning. Couldn't I be made an honorary citizen of Florida so that I could cast half a vote for him, maybe? And if he can further arrange that the magnificent fruit you see hanging on the trees in the Central Florida groves reaches us up north here instead of being allowed to fall off and rot on the ground, you'll all want to go down and toss in a vote for him. I don't know WHO gets the huge grapefruit and wallowing big oranges you see on the trees down there, but we don't. Warren says he is going to fix THAT. Gentlemen, I give you this Column's first official political candidate for 1948—Fuller Warren for Governor of Florida.

Gave Saga Of Daddy Browning

I note by the same sheet that Mr. Barnard Macfadden is likewise a candidate for the high post of governor of that state. It did not say in the advertisement what he proposed to do for Florida if elected, but I remember what he did for us here in New York back in the roaring twenties, when he was publisher of the tabloid Graphic, an afternoon paper since vanished from the scene, in which he gave to the world the wonderful saga of Daddy Browning, an elderly real estate operator and Peaches, the high school girl with whom he eloped. Daddy liked 'em young. Peaches was awful young. Peaches had a Momma. Daddy had dough. There was trouble. They were married. The Graphic kept us entertained for months with the tale of Daddy and Peaches Browning. It was a journalistic riot. I feel that Floridians should accept no less.

State Police Say:

American ingenuity has produced super-efficient cars, but American carelessness has made them ghastly weapons for killing our neighbors. Sometimes driving brings out the worst in human nature. Selfishly, a driver will hug the center of the road, refuse to let others pass, weave in and out of traffic, cut across a line of traffic when he wants to make a turn. The courteous driver is the better driver and usually gets there just as fast.

They Say

THE HAGUE—Winston Churchill: "I am no enemy of any nation—Russia, Japan or Germany—we all understand their tolls and needs. But I am against tyranny in any form, ancient or modern."

CHICAGO—Kenneth C. Royall, army secretary: "America does not need the biggest army in the world. The quality of the army is the most important. We must have the best army in the world."

JACKSON, Miss.—Gov. Ben Laney of Ark., at southern right Democrats meeting: "I think that we can prevent Mr. Truman from being nominated. We want to elect a president that believes in states' rights."

STOCKHOLM—Einar Gerhardsen, Swedish premier: "In this insecure world it is important to develop further cooperation between Scandinavian countries. We ought to explore the possibilities of military cooperation."

Life's Darkest Moment : : : : : BY E. T. WEBSTER

RAIN, BLACK FLIES AND WITH HER HUSBAND HALF A MILE DOWN STREAM IT IS USELESS TO BUST INTO TEARS

But as the years go winging on, I've never come across the one whose work is always signed: "Anon."

Of all our writers, there is none more gifted than the chap "Anon." Differing from Mr. X, his name is often linked to whose fame, though unidentified he lives, Delight unto the world he gives. Sometimes, as his, the papers quote Great lines that Shakespeare thought he wrote.

Full many a gem goes shining on, The credit given to "Anon." Profound and profound is he. "This wonder that one man can be Always so witty and so wise, So given to mental enterprise That he, 'neath inspiration's spell, Can write so much, and write so well."

There are some authors whom I know Whose names with shining lustre glow. But as the years go winging on, I've never come across the one Whose work is always signed: "Anon."

From Me To You

By MESEALL

For the time at least . . . stoppage in the railroad business will not take place . . . and just between us . . . many hundreds of Lawrence County RR workers are happy they won't have to stay away from work . . . they tell me they like to eat and pay their bills too . . . so let's change the subject right now and listen to the story a young lady has to tell:

She sat on the edge of the chair looked across my desk and complained that her husband was useless around the house. . . . She said he was lackadaisical about his children and unappreciative of what she does for them. When screens have to be put up or the garage cleaned, he has her hire the work done. . . . To stress her predicament, she ran over a list of her friends and what they expect and get from their husbands in sympathy and general handiness around the house.

The husband, who was present, sitting on the other side of the office, wasn't defending himself. It evidently was a regular rehearsal of this theme. . . . This woman is a good wife and mother. But she confessed that at times she envies the attention and help her less efficient and more demanding friends get from their husbands.

This wasn't a man . . . but the fact remains . . . the husband knows that the more a man does around the house, the more is expected of him. . . . Once he gets the children up on Sunday morning, he is stuck with that job for life, or until he can hire someone other than his wife to do it.

Just before they left we offered this question to the young lady. . . . Why did you marry this man? . . . The answer was very interesting and they both left smiling as she said "That's an entirely different question."

Sioux Indians say they are having a hard time living like white men, and no wonder.

Movie actresses in Hollywood are carrying potted plants in their bustles, off-setting the male habit of carrying Four Roses on the hip.

If the Tennessee woman who has just awakened after a 12-year sleep will look things over carefully, she will discover she didn't miss much during her long nap.

NOT PERMANENT

James Webb, director of the budget, said the other day in Washington that there is no prospect of a reduction in the government's spending for years to come. Taxpayers might as well accept calmly the inevitability of budgets of $40,000,000,000 and higher, according to Webb. Many others subscribe to the same view.

But that's assuming that Uncle Sam will continue partially supporting a sizable part of the world and keep on pouring revenue into the hopper of a maze of bureaus and agencies with unnecessary and wasteful functions. That is, if the oversized setup in Washington is to be continued and paternalism is to be continued everywhere west and south of the Iron Curtain, $40,000,000,000 a year will not cover the outgo.

In that event, the prospect is not so much of new taxes, as a resumption of deficit financing, with the debt pushed higher and higher.

Continuation of big government may seem inescapable now, but the trend could change. If Russia declines economically, at least one-half of this nation's expenditures will be uncalled for. And there is always the possibility that Americans will grow weary of tossing half of what they make into the pot of federal paternalism. The country hasn't reached an ultimate decision on that.

It will go one way or the other—either toward $100,000,000,000 budgets or toward a figure considerably lower than that of today.

THE COST OF WAR

While the world stands in fear of another war, it is doubtful if there is general understanding of the tremendous cost of the last two in which the United States had major parts.

The people realize in a vague way the financial cost to the United States, although it is difficult for the average person to visualize $250,000,000,000, the present national debt. This is what the last two wars cost, in addition to the hundreds of billions that have been paid on account.

But there have been other costs which are not directly represented in dollars and cents and for that reason are not so readily apparent.

Although cities of the United States have not been touched by bombs, they have been damaged by inability to make improvements for which there would have been materials and capital had there been no wars. There would be no housing shortage at the moment had not war destroyed vast quantities of the materials from which homes are constructed.

And because of the cost of war, and the national debt that resulted, inflation has reduced the value of the dollar and all those things in which dollars are invested.

Even so, the United States is much better off than any other nation. Economists say that it will require at least 100 years to restore such countries as Germany, France and even England. Not only are they prostrate economically, but the national spirit has been damaged seriously.

If future wars could be postponed until past wars are paid for, there would be no more wars.

U. S. WILL RULE THE AIR

If there were any doubts concerning the nation's attitude toward its own defense, they have been dispelled by the congressional roll calls on the 70-unit air force. The bill was passed by the House 339 to 3 and the vote in the Senate was 74 to 2. This is a decision as nearly unanimous as the country is likely to get on any matter under the representative government system.

The United States is speaking to the Soviet Union in language it understands. Uncle Sam will construct a fleet of 2,727 modern planes, including bombers and jet fighters, and recruit a force of several hundred thousand fliers.

It would be impossible for the United States to match the Russians in ground forces without inviting bankruptcy. But there is universal determination to achieve superiority over the Reds in the air. This is the only practical superiority for America. Certainly ground forces superior to those of the Russians would not be insurance of peace for this country.

It is expensive insurance Uncle Sam is taking out. In fact, it is so expensive that the administration had some fears of the impact it would have on the national budget. Neither President Truman nor Secretary of Defense Forrestal wanted to go quite so far. They first urged a force of 55 units and later recommended 66. But Congress took the bit into its teeth and settled on 70.

The result will be an expenditure of more than $3,000,000,000. This is a lot of money, and it can only be hoped that it will do the job expected of it. If it does it will be a good investment.

Sioux Indians say they are having a hard time living like white men, and no wonder.

Movie actresses in Hollywood are carrying potted plants in their bustles, off-setting the male habit of carrying Four Roses on the hip.

Cabinet Member May Be Named

Governor Duff May Name
Secretary Of Revenue
In Near Future

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, May 11.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff's statement that he had no intention of "immediately" replacing Acting Secretary of Revenue Otto F. Messner, of Lancaster, is an indication he will eventually name someone to the $12,000-a-year post with cabinet status. Messner, who had served as deputy, was named acting secretary when David W. Harris, of Philadelphia, resigned the $12,000-a-year job March 15. There were reports at the time that the resignation was prompted by a disagreement between Duff and the Philadelphia GOP boss. The transfer of Carl C. Tinstman, former "furloughed" deputy secretary of forests and waters, to the Revenue department has prompted talk that he is "checking" on the department's operation for the governor before announcing the new berth for Tinstman. Duff had explained Tinstman was "doing a job" for him. The shift was the second for Tinstman in the past two years. He was moved out of the health department following federal charges that he violated the Hatch "no politics" act. Shortly after he landed in the Department of Forests and Waters, Secretary M. F. Draemel ordered him to take a vacation due to their failure to get along. Then Duff came to his rescue and placed him in the Revenue department.

Mrs. Mary A. Bless, capitol cafeteria dietitian, says her establishment will "go along" with the wheat conservation and anti-inflation program outlined by the U. S. Agriculture department. "We'll go along with anything they say," she declared. "We've been very careful to cut down on use of wheat products and we don't use steaks," she explained. The program advocates more use of fish and less of choice cut meats.

An indication of runaway construction costs was given by the Department of Property and Supplies when it rejected bids for three projects at the Pennsylvania State college. They involved construction of an armory and additions to the physical education building and engineering group. The department had $3,552,769 with which to finance them plus improvements to the plant industries and mineral industries buildings, a classroom building and power plant. The aggregate bids exceeded the allotment by $1,338,000. Individually, bids were 50 to 60 per cent above the department's expectations when the projects were planned in 1945. College officials decided which buildings should receive initial consideration in view of the necessity of deferring some projects until more money was forthcoming from the general assembly.

The State Planning board claims Pennsylvania's debt is "smaller by many millions of dollars" than comparable industrial states. At the close of the last fiscal year, long term debt totaled $74,829,000 compared with $515,151,000 for New York, $394,520,000 for Illinois, and $134,432,000 for California. The second state in population, Pennsylvania is tenth in the total of debt backed by the credit of a state government. Pennsylvania's gross per capita state debt amounts to $7.28 compared with the national per capita debt of $1,801.38, the board said. New York's per capita debt runs over $36. Others are Michigan, $31.81; Illinois, $47.99; North Carolina, $24.46; California, $13.61; Louisiana, $64.75.

Banquet Fetes Student Nurses

Graduating Classes Enjoy
Program-Banquet Monday Evening, New Castle Hospital

Student nurses of the New Castle Hospital School of Nursing, to be graduated Wednesday evening, were honored at a banquet Monday evening in the nurses home. Class graduates of both the March and August classes were included.

The room was gaily decorated with a May pole with streamers of blue and white, the class colors. Blue and white candles flanked the tables, and fresh spring flowers centered the tables. A tiny remembrance marked places at the table.

Rev. Fr. John Bruckner, chaplain of the New Castle hospital, gave the invocation. A delicious dinner prepared by the Sisters of St. Francis was served at 6 o'clock.

Miss Navarra Presides
Miss Rose Navarra, a student nurse and chairman of the social committee, presided during the program.

Greetings were heard from Dr. Thomas Uber, who congratulated the girls in behalf of the medical staff. He wished them continued success in achieving their goal, especially in times when nurses are in great demand.

Sister Mary John, superintendent of the hospital, spoke briefly, urging the student nurses to be active in the Nurses Alumnae when they join. She warned them that although three years of their education in nursing is over, their education is far from being completed.

Sister Lawrence Mary, director of nurses, expressed the hope that the nurses would exemplify the love of Christ in their nursing career and permeate the spirit of Christ in their nursing, regardless of race, color and creed.

Principal Speaker
Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, pastor of St. Joseph's church, as principal speaker, traced the history of nursing and the ideals of Christian charity of which the nursing profession is composed. With Christian charity you will make friends, which no amount of wealth can buy. It will build a castle of happiness which material cannot destroy. And most of all you will have the blessing of God. In addition you will be considered a credit to the hospital.

Another guest also present was Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, assistant pastor of St. Vitus church.

During the program a vocal selection, "Over the Rainbow", was sung by Nancy Moore and a duet, "Blessing of St. Francis", by Miss Moore and Mary Jane McGinnis. The assembly sang the class song, and the program closed with Fr. Bruckner giving the benediction.

An informal period of entertainment followed, with Miss Louise Jimm portraying the gypsy role and giving the class prophecy. The class will be given by Rosemary Factor and the class knocker by Mrs. Frances McKissick.

Miss Rose Navarra was chairman of the affair and her committee: decorations, Josephine Fleo; program, Dolores DeCarbo; gifts, Julia Wolanin; invitations, Norren Snyderwine, and music, Nancy Moore.

CARS COLLIDE ON ROUTE 422 NEAR OHIO LINE

William Moore, aged 30 years, of Weinberg Way, severe lacerations of right cheek. In Jameson Memorial hospital.

Priv. Thomas Keys, aged 19 years, U. S. Army Air Corps, of 1417 Moravia street, bruised about body. Treated at Jameson Memorial hospital and discharged.

Harold Dester, aged 25 years, of 1111 Scioto street, severe lacerations of forehead and injuries of chest. In Jameson Memorial hospital.

Nine Persons in One Car

According to the story learned by Coroner Charles E. Allen and state police, who were called to the scene, the car driven by Harold Miller was traveling in a westerly direction. In this car were Mrs. Klakowsky and Miss Clone.

The other car operated by Wilbur Payne was traveling east. There were nine persons in the Payne car, all colored, who were returning from a dance held at The Elms in Youngstown last night.

Just ahead of Wilbur Payne's car, and also returning from the dance with a group of local young people, was a car driven by Ozzie Payne, brother of Wilbur's. According to the occupants of this machine, Miller was driving in the center of the three-lane highway when he passed them, and they heard Wilbur Payne honking his horn and flashing his lights in warning. Seconds later they heard the crash. When they were able to stop and return to the scene, Wilbur Payne's car had burst into flames. They were able to drag the occupants out of the blazing car, however.

Injured Expected to Recover

Ambulances from Lowellville, O., and New Castle answered the call for assistance, as the officers went to the scene. The two injured women in Miller's car were taken to Youngstown, while the others in the Payne car were brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

None of the injured persons is believed to be critically injured. How they escaped more serious injury is a mystery, as both cars were virtually demolished by the collision. The entire top of Miller's car was torn off.

The body of Miller was brought to the R. L. Boyd funeral home to be prepared for burial, while those of Miss Robinson and Florence and Payne were brought to the Crunkleton funeral home.

Served in World War

Harold Leonard Miller, son of Clyde Young and Gertrude Marie Duffy Miller, was born July 30, 1916, in New Castle. The deceased, who was employed in Cleveland, O., came home to spend the two days he was off work. He was a member of the Moose lodge.

During World War II Mr. Miller served in chemical warfare for over two years and then was transferred to the quartermasters' division in the States.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller, New Castle; two brothers, Charles Henry and Robert Miller, both of this city; and one sister, Mrs. Ruth Herberg, Cleveland.

The body has been removed to the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street. Funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

Funeral Time Not Set Yet

Funeral arrangements for the others killed in the crash have not been completed at this time, either.

Diamond Mining Film Seen At Meeting Monday Noon Through
Courtesy Of Local Jeweler

Through the courtesy of Jesse L. Kerr, local jeweler, an interesting film showing how diamonds are mined in the famous South African diamond field, was exhibited to members of the New Castle Rotary Club at their noon luncheon meeting, Monday noon.

Carl L. Nelson, an employee of the Kerr Jewelry Company, gave a short history of diamond mining in connection with the picture, which proved most interesting.

Memorials to Emanuel Shenkan and Harry W. Newman, Rotarians who passed on during the year were read, the memorial to Mr. Shenkan being given by Attorney J. Glenn Berry, and that to Mr. Newman by Attorney Joseph McFate.

Eugene R. Harry, successor to S. H. Rhoads, as freight agent for the Baltimore and Ohio, was welcomed to the club as a new member, as was George W. Lucas, who succeeded Rotarian A. R. Heizman, as manager of the National Cash Register Company.

It was announced that the banquet which is to be given to members of the Butler Rotary Club, who were winners in a recent attendance contest, will be tendered on May 24.

Tribute was also paid J. Lee McFate, for his splendid attendance record, Mr. McFate having attended 1308 meetings without a miss, covering a period of almost 28 years.

DOMINIC FLEO, JR. DIES AS RESULT OF BULLET WOUNDS

stages of his struggle, he had crawled along the ground. Yesterday morning's rain partly covered the marks he made as he crawled along the road.

It is possible that the youth had tried to gain an entrance to Lathrop's shack to get out of the rain yesterday morning, and when he leaned against the door to try and get in, had discharged the gun.

Lathrop stated that he had rigged it up by bracing it with a chair, and had arranged a stick of wood against the trigger, so that the least pressure against the door would discharge the weapon.

After setting the trap, he had crawled out a cellar window to the back of the shack.

Hunting For Wheel

Members of the Fleo family stated that Dominic had gone to the junk yard to look for a wheel, to be used to set atop a May pole, which his sister wished to use in connection with graduation exercises at the New Castle hospital, where she is a member of the nurses' training class which gets its diplomas Wednesday evening.

It is possible that he was caught in the sudden shower which came up yesterday morning, and tried to gain an entrance to the shack to get out of the rain.

Lathrop, in company with District Attorney Leroy Donaldson, County Detective Ross, and State police went to the scene this morning, where Lathrop showed them how he had set the trap, and exhibited the holder which he had made out of wood. He also procured the gun.

A charge of voluntary manslaughter was preferred against Lathrop before Alderman L. C. Mantz this morning by State Policeman Harold G. Rice, after which he was remanded to jail to await a hearing and coroner's inquest.

Born In New Castle

Dominic Fleo was born in New Castle, March 25, 1933, son of Domenick S. and Jennie Fragola Fleo. He attended Rose Avenue and Benjamin Franklin school. Domenick was a member of St. Vitus church.

He leaves his parents, three brothers: Anthony, Joseph, this city, and Pfc. William Fleo, U. S. Army, military police, Alaska; and five sisters: Mrs. Lucy Esposito, this city; Mrs. Mary Caughey, Koppel; Mrs. Florence Cioffi, and Josephine and Margaret at home.

The body will be at the DeCarbo Funeral Home, East Lutton at Cunningham, where friends may call any time after 7 p. m. tonight.

Funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

Good Will Group To Elect Officers

Good Will Conference will have an important business meeting at the North Street school on Tuesday evening, May 11, at 8 o'clock, and officers will be elected.

Local problems will also be discussed and Rev. Thomas J. Jones will preside.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

We know better. We know that industry under statism would be honey-combed with politics, red tape, waste and graft. We know that genius would have no encouragement to labor and research would become an idle pastime.

Competition Is Seen

Every day you can read the basis of American enterprise and productivity in your daily newspaper, your weekly or monthly magazine. Competition, the ambition of the producers of America—whether of trains or tractors, pens or peanuts—to give the consumer the best and the most for the least. In a sense, it is true, it is a modern application of the law of the survival of the fittest. But this law always has prevailed in nature, and it must continue if there is to be any progress in the world, economically, physically, morally. There is no obligation on society to continue indefinitely the subsidizing of those who construct, pagan, though in some senses, it may seem. The rule of the better mousetrap—improperly accredited to Emerson—must prevail. Otherwise there would be no advance and the race would be hopelessly bowed down with care for the incompetent and unworthy.

Under free enterprise and free competition America still gives the most of the best for the least to her own people and to the world. If we haven't sense enough to appreciate and cherish our good fortune we ought to—and will—lose it.

Nothing ventured... nothing gained!

No one guaranteed the Wright Brothers that their "box kite" airplane would fly... but it did! No one could be certain that the years of planning, the hopes and dreams, the effort, the hard-earned dollars would pay off in achievement... but they did!

Once again, man's willingness to venture had paved the way for progress.

In a free land such as ours everyone plays a part in one venture or another. Some contribute ideas—men like the Wrights, Edison, Bell, Steinmetz, De Forest. Some carry out ideas—the managers and workers. Some provide the necessary money for tools, factories, raw materials and wages—the investors.

Of all these, the role of the investor is least known, least understood. The individual who sets aside part of his income for investment in industry is but one of millions of similar risk-takers, scattered through all walks of life, unrecognized and unrecognized. Yet, without the venture dollars provided by these thrifty citizens, the nation's production of goods could not increase, its standard of living could not rise.

The New York Stock Exchange, as the nation's principal market place for investors, believes there is urgent need for a governmental policy—particularly a tax policy—that gives every individual an opportunity to save, and an incentive to put his surplus dollars to work for the benefit of all our people.

City Will Now Get All Funds Placed In City Parking Meters

OTHER NEWS OF COUNCIL ACTION

When council met Monday in city hall, council authorized payment of $311.10 to the Duncan Meter corporation, which includes all payment for meters the city purchased several years ago. Receipts now taken in will be net for the city, it was reported, the final installment having been paid.

Mayor John F. Haven has signed a contract with the Manufacturers Distributing company for plumbing installed in the new city building. All contracts have now been signed, and executed, and actual construction of the super-structure is expected to start next week.

Upon motion of Streets Director James Gibson, appointments were made to the Board of Appeals and Zoning, as follows: Frank L. Orth, term ends 1951; Robert J. Tully, term ends 1950, and F. Paul Butz, term ends 1949. By a similar motion appointments to the Planning commission were made as follows: Charles McGill, term ends 1953; J. F. Dagnon, term ends 1952; R. J. Tully, term ends 1951, and F. Paul Butz, term ends 1949.

April reports were made by departmental heads to council, as follows: dogs killed 45, city engineer bureau receipts $504.21, plumbing bureau receipts $87.50 and police department $1,067.64.

Center street property owners requested council to pave Center street between South Jefferson street and the Neshannock creek, payments to be made in advance. The petition was referred to the city engineers for checking.

SERVICE!

THE RAILROAD WON'T HOLD UP A TRAIN TO LET 'EM FINISH A RUBBER BUT I GIVE 'EM A BREAK.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, May 11.—(INS)—S. Sylvan Simon met Miss Turner wondering what to wear. Said Sylvan Simon: "I've an eye man! Also I will wear 'That a nice wool sweater would fit you better—' And make gents tear out all their hair!"

Simon Knows

The same Simon, who touted Lana Turner to stardom by insisting that she make her movie debut in a sweater, still has 20-20 vision for what film fans want in the way of entertainment.

The deft direction that launched the career of Mrs. Lana Turner Shaw Crane Topping has made S. Sylvan Simon one of Hollywood's greatest directors.

And probably the busiest. Most movie moguls think they are swamped with business when they toll over a single picture. Simon currently is working on five productions simultaneously.

They are the biggest-budgeted products "Columbia Pictures will turn out this semester.

Each will cost a couple of million bucks to manufacture but if Simon runs true to form they will fatten the Columbia coffers to the tune of 15 million fish, give or take a few fins.

Here is the lineup of the Simon spectacles:

"The Lovers," a story of a paroled murderer, starring Cornel Wilde and his wife, Pat Knight.

"Portrait of an American Communist," which Simon predicts will be the most startling movie ever made.

"Miss Grant Takes Richmond," with Rosalind Russell.

"Bonanza," adapted from the book, "Superstitious Mountain," which will tell Americans where they can find $20,000,000 in buried gold. (Simon's going prospecting for himself.)

"Lone Hanson," starring Rita Hayworth.

When the former Chicago whirlwind started explaining the current pictures, he became so exuberant his discourse turned into a verbal montage.

"They'll all be sensational," he said with amazing modesty. "They all are different, in technique and presentation, from anything I've ever done in the theater or for the screen."

The big bosses at Columbia have turned Simon loose, with free hands, on the costly productions because he has built one of movietown's most enviable reputations as a guy who can concoct smash hits.

Simon has been theatrically savvy since college days. He copied a Phi Beta Kappa key at Michigan, where he later taught dramatics before winding up at Columbia law school.

He has written five technical books on the theater, but he can't find enough hours in the day to do everything he'd like to about movies.

Which is just as well. If Simon could stretch a day into two, say 90 or 70 hours, it would create a devastating unemployment problem among the "average" directors and producers in Hollywood.

Bach Festival

Will Be May 14-15

HARRISBURG, May 11.—(INS)—The famed Bach choir festival is scheduled to be held May 14 and 15 at Lehigh University Memorial Chapel in Bethlehem.

The festival stemmed from musical traditions in the Moravian "service of song" going back to 1742.

The present choir of 240 voices was organized in 1882. It is composed of local residents representing every trade and profession.

The choir gave the first complete performance in America of Bach's "B Minor Mass" and "St. John Passion."

This year the repertoire will include the 39th presentation of the "B Minor Mass" in its entirety. Cantatas, motets, oratorios and chorales will be played from the tower of the chapel during the performances and intermissions. It was reported by the State Commerce department's Vacation bureau.

Founder Of Mother's Day Is Paid Tribute

WEST CHESTER, Pa., May 11.—(INS)—Aging Anna M. Jarvis, founder of Mother's Day, couldn't see them, but the walls of her room at West Chester sanitarium are covered today with greetings from all over the nation.

Miss Jarvis, now blind and able to spend only a few hours at a time sitting up in a chair, received hundreds of cards and telegrams. About half the nation's 48 governors sent remembrances.

Palestine Truce Plan Supported By United States

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 11.—The United States today threw its prestige behind the appeal for a Palestine-wide truce to bolster United Nations plans for an emer-gency Holy Land regime.
U. S. Consul General Thomas Wasson in Jerusalem has made an-other bid to Jews and Arabs for a three months truce as a "cooling off" period pending an accord be-tween the two warring nations.
Meanwhile, Moshe Shertok, head of the Jewish Agency's political department, is expected to give personal attention to the United States truce endeavors when he consults with Wasson within the next few days.

He consulted with the United States delegation at Lake Success before departing for Palestine.

The new U. S. efforts are being kept within the pattern of cease-fire and truce moves developed by the security council's truce group. Among the most encouraging de-velopment is the increasing ten-dency to remove Jerusalem from the battle area and shield it under the flag of the international Red Cross and the United Nations.

"Union Square" For Speakers Planned In N. J.

Civil Liberties Committee Suggest Movement For "All" Speakers
In New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., May 11—(INS)—The New Jersey Committee on Civil Liberties has asked Governor Alfred E. Driscoll to support a movement to establish a "Hyde Park" or "Union Square" in New Jersey municipalities to permit speakers to expound their philosophies undisturbed by police or civilians.

"The crank, the fanatic, the announced enemy of our system of government, is less dangerous when given opportunity for self-expression," said the committee, headed by Dr. Wilbur E. Saunders, headmaster of Peddie school at Hightstown.

"The zealot who is not allowed to express his ideas in public becomes a martyr and draws adherents who otherwise would have laughed at him. For all these there should be a Hyde Park or Union Square in every large community in our state."

The committee also recommended that Dr. John E. Boschart, state commissioner of education, prepare a model policy for the use of all public school facilities in the state for public discussion for distribution to all local boards of education. It was claimed that if such facilities are made available to any political faction, they should also be made available to all political factions on the same terms.

Nation Has 2,000 Schools Teaching Driving Of Auto

PHILADELPHIA, May 11—(INS)—Some 2,000 high schools in the nation now include automobile driving in their daily instructions. Within the metropolitan Philadelphia area, 15 schools are carrying driver training courses, using dual-control training cars.

Analysis of traffic fatality records show that 16-year-olds are about ten times as dangerous behind a wheel as persons in the 45-to-50 group.

The National Safety Council's survey shows that it costs $31.40 to train each student. But the price in money is a lot better than the price the nation would pay in lives lost in automobile accidents each year.

A New Name for a PUBLIC SERVICE

With the approval of its stockholders, the name of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation has been changed to

THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC.

Since the Corporation divested itself of its electrical properties under the provisions of the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, the new name becomes more descriptive of the System's functions in public service.

The Corporation and its operating subsidiaries have long been known, unofficially, as the COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM. Now, with the formal approval at the Annual Stockholders Meeting on April 29th at Wilmington, Delaware, the new corporate title becomes official.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM serves 1,000,000 homes, businesses and industries with natural gas directly through its own distribution lines, and another 800,000 customers through wholesale deliveries to other utilities in cities such as Washington, D. C., Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio. Last year the System delivered 231 billion cubic feet of gas through some 31,000 miles of transmission and distribution lines. The System is even now preparing to deliver by 1950 in excess of 300 billion cubic feet of natural gas annually.

FORMS OF ADDRESS

"Please straighten me out on the following points: (1) How to address an envelope to a married woman, a widow, a divorcee, (2) How to address a small boy, a small girl, (3) When are 'Messrs.' and 'Misses' used? (4) Is 'and family' correct? (5) Is punctuation used and are abbreviations permissible? (6) I have seen letters addressed 'John Smith' omitting the 'Mr.' Is this correct?"

Answer: (1) A married woman is always addressed 'Mrs. John Smith' whether she is living with her husband or whether she is a widow or a divorcee. Sometimes, however, a divorcee prefers to drop her ex-husband's Christian name and call herself 'Mrs. Martin Smith' her own maiden name having been 'Helen Martin'. Usually such questions are decided by the divorce provisions.

(2) A small boy is addressed as 'Master' and continues so until he is of high school age. A girl is always addressed as 'Miss' from infancy until she marries.

(3) 'Messrs.' is used socially only when addressing unmarried brothers. It is never correct for a father and son. 'Misses' is correct when addressing a joint message to single sisters.

(4) 'And family' is never correct. 'Mr. and Mrs.' receive a joint invitation. All other members of the family—children or adults—must be named.

(5) Punctuation is sometimes used on envelopes but it is better omitted. Abbreviations should not be used. Street addresses, cities and states should be spelled out, except when states have long names and have customary and familiar abbreviations. It is also preferable to spell out the full name of the addressee with the possible exception of the middle name.

(6) The title—Miss, Mr. or Mrs.—of the addressee should be used always.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Johnstown Tops Chiefs, 9-3 Before 13,000

(Special To The News)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 11.—Johnstown had a perfect opening game. They trounced the New Castle Chiefs, here last night, 9-3, before an overflow crowd of more than 13,000 in perfect weather. With the crowd rimming the entire stadium, ground rules were necessary and seven of the Johnnies' 12 blows went for extra bases. Wiley Williams led the way with a home run, triple and single to drive in three runs.

Joe Tysko survived a shaky start to subdue the Chiefs with only four hits in the last eight innings. He fanned 11 and walked only three. New Castle went to work early on Joe Tysko with four hits worth two runs in the first.

Magusiak Starts Rally
With one out, Magusiak popped a double to right but was caught going to third on Kitchen's bouncer. Then Myers and Crow singled to fill the bases. Maloney also drilled a single to right, scoring Kitchen and Myers, but Crow was caught between second and third and was run down. Tysko lost his control momentarily in the fourth and it cost him a run. Maud and Giordano walked and the bases were filled. Then Tysko threw wild on Vallancourt's grounder, scoring Maud, but when Giordano also tried to score, he was nailed on a throw to the plate by Wiley Williams.

Some of the older fans like to relate stories concerning fighters of yesteryear, and one concerns the late Tony Ross, local heavyweight. It opponent an ex-policeman of the Opera House, winning, and giving him low and took his heavyweight title. "Why, all Dempsey had was a left hook," said Willard. "Yes, and you got it," replied McQuaid. A few evenings later, Jimmie Dunn, the Cleveland fight manager, was in the crowd, and again Willard reshaped the fight. He got to a certain point when Dunn broke in, saying: "Jess, what's the use of you saying that I saw the fight and you know you never had a chance with Dempsey." Now and then comes the "story" that Dempsey's gloves were "loaded"—he had a horseshoe in 'em, so to speak. Walter Monaghan, who was in Dempsey's corner at Toledo, on July 4, 1919, told Bill Corum, I. N. S. sports scribe, that: "Willard got what might be called the last look at Dempsey's hands and their bandages in the ring at Toledo," so if anything was wrong, which no doubt, there wasn't, Willard himself was to blame for not finding it out.

There's asked why and Terry explained his reason. The next round found Terry belting Madole as hard as he could. One of the best, though unofficial bouts ever fought here, was staged by Patsy Brannigan and Babe Picato in the Dime gymnasium. While on the coast, Jimmie Dime took Picato under his wing after Babe had fought Freddy Andrews. When Babe came east, Dime sent him into the local gym, and it so happened that Brannigan was chosen as his sparring partner. No doubt, feeling the Babe would try to "show him up" Patsy girded for action. Picato demonstrated his stuff in the first, and then the "fight" was on. They battled fiercely for several rounds, when Dime seeing how things were going called a halt to the proceedings. He didn't want an "unofficial" fight making them enemies. . . . Remember Johnny Fletcher, the welterweight? He was slow, but tough as history. The brother of Pete, who later became middleweight champion, Steve broke one of Johnny's ribs in the first, but Johnny finished the 10 rounds. New Castle fighter went to Wilkes-Barre and fought Steve Latzo, Russell Baxter boxes Bulldog Rutherford at Roanoke, Va., tonight.

Cleveland Negro Star Clouts Team Into Lead

NEW YORK, May 11.—(INS)—The American league may have a negro star to equal or possibly surpass the feats of Jackie Robinson, fabulous sophomore of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Cleveland's Larry Doby is reported to be as fast as Robinson, and he really can tear the cover off the ball. The other day he whacked a home run in Washington that approached one of Babe Ruth's record swats.

Yesterday, he led the Cleveland attack with a homer, a double and two singles as the Indians trounced the Boston Red Sox, 12 to 7, and took undisputed possession of first place.

Both the Indians and the Yankees seem bent on supplanting the New York Giants as the home run king of the majors. The Yanks, who walloped the Chicago White Sox yesterday 9 to 3, have collected seven circuit clouts in their last two starts and 23 in 17 games this year.

Red Embree, former Cleveland star, who never has lost to the White Sox, held the pale hose to six hits and racked up his first victory in a New York uniform.

Early Wynn Shines
Washington's star hurler, Early Wynn, for whom various other clubs are suffering from hunger, turned in another good game when he held the St. Louis Browns to five hits and beat them 6 to 2 under the arc lights.

The National league race became practically a triple tie for first place among the St. Louis Cardinals, the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates, when the Cards were handcuffed by Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, and Pittsburgh beat Brooklyn's prize rookie, Erv Palica, 4 to 2.

Grandpa Elmer Riddle, a Cincinnati castoff, racked up his third win of the campaign when he held the Dodgers to five hits and bested Palica in a night game. Ralph Kiner, the Pittsburgh strong boy, belted his sixth homer of the year, with one man on base, to win for the Bucs.

Sain, finally regaining the form which made him an ace last year, allowed the Cardinals ten hits under the arc lights and beat them 6 to 0. Earl Torgeson whacked a three-run homer for the Braves in the third inning.

The New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs were idle, and other clubs were not scheduled. The Giants handed Joe Baggus, veteran relief pitcher, his unconditional release.

The South Side Merchants will hold a baseball workout at 8 o'clock tonight at Gaston Park.

UMPIRES WILL MEET

May Day Frolic Y-Teens Event

Junior Y-Teens enjoyed a May Day frolic at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday morning, their program including an enthusiastic song fest in the auditorium, bowling, ping pong and relay contests in the gymnasium. A picnic lunch in the Green room concluded the event.

The first May Day frolic was sponsored by the Junior Y-Teen Interclub Council, with representatives from Washington, Union, Shenango, Elm street and J. P. Byers' Y-Teen clubs. Assisting was Mrs. Clark McClelland, Y-Teen program director and Eunice Jackson, Margaretta Dagherly and Jessica Jenkins, Y-Teen advisors.

CHICAGO — General John A. Logan, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, first designated May 30 as the nation's annual Memorial day in 1869.

Two Confess Part In Shotgun Murder

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—(INS)—Two suspects were being held today while police sought a third youth in connection with the cold-blooded slaying of an automobile salesman last Wednesday. Police said James Fleming, 20, and James Gallagher, 23, surrendered at city hall last night and admitted participating in the fatal holdup of Harry Ford, 59, on a used car lot in Philadelphia. Fleming acknowledged firing a single shotgun blast that killed Ford "accidentally." The youth was quoted as saying: "We're not gangsters, we're just a couple of kids who have had a bad break."
